

Valpak household batteries collection service disclaimer

Participation in the Valpak Limited ('Valpak') battery recycling service is voluntary, and you agree that your participation in the scheme is on a voluntary basis and is at your sole option, discretion and risk. Valpak does not give any endorsement or make any warranties of any kind, whether expressed or implied, in relation to the Valpak battery recycling service and all warranties as to the quality of the service are excluded to the fullest extent permitted by law. However, if a problem occurs in the service you should report it to info@valpak.co.uk and we will attempt to remedy the problem as soon as we reasonably can.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you comply with best practice and any relevant legislation, regulations, orders, guidance or industry code surrounding the collecting and storage of waste batteries. You agree that you will be responsible for any losses you or any third party may suffer due to a failure by you to comply with the foregoing in connection with accepting, handling and storing waste batteries.

For the avoidance of doubt, we will not be responsible to you or any third party for any business loss (including loss of profits, revenue, contracts, anticipated savings, data, goodwill or wasted expenditure) or any indirect or consequential loss incurred or suffered by you arising directly or indirectly out of your use of the Valpak battery recycling services.

Nothing in this disclaimer shall exclude or limit Valpak's liability for death or personal injury resulting from Valpak's negligence or that of Valpak's servants, agents or employees or any liability for fraud or for any other liability that cannot be excluded or limited by law.
